Embargoed until Midnight, 20 April

The Interior Design Awards were announced last night at a gala dinner held at the National Gallery of Victoria where more than five hundred design professionals gathered to hear the commended and winning entries from 16 categories covering residential, retail, hospitality, corporate, public, interior product and interior textile design.

Now in its fourth year, the Interior Design Awards is an internationally recognised event promoting and rewarding interior design excellence. The programme is open to any Australian-based designer including interior designers, interior decorators, architects and other design professionals and is a partnership event of the Design Institute of Australia (the professional body representing Australian designers), designEX (Australia's premier event for interior architecture and design) and ARTICHOKE (the interior architecture magazine published by Architecture Media).

"The Interior Design Awards is an unmissable opportunity for designers to be recognised at the highest level," said Jacinta Reedy, event manager for the Interior Design Awards. "Working with the Design Institute of Australia and our collaboration with the National Conference of the Royal Australian Institute of Architects reinforces the credibility of this program and its outcomes."

Overall entries for the 2007 Interior Design Awards increased from 197 projects, entered into 319 award categories (2006 figures) to 355 projects entered into 471 award categories (2007 figures). This is an increase of 80% for projects entered and an increase of 48% in terms of the award categories entered. More than 500 registrations were received.

Judging is conducted under the supervision of the Design Institute of Australia, and observes the protocols set by the International Federation of Interior Architects/Interior Designers. Judges for the 2007 awards are: Sue Carr, CARR, VIC; Jeffery Copolov, Bates Smart, VIC; Meryl Hare, Hare & Klein, NSW; Francesco Bonato, Tectvs, SA; David Whittaker, Whittaker Hadenham & Openshaw, NSW; Kevin Fitzgerald, HBO + EMTB, NSW; David Hicks, David Hicks, VIC and; Jane Mackay, Daryl Jackson Interiors, VIC.

The generous support of sponsors enables delivery of the Interior Design Awards. In 2007 corporate sponsors include Forbo, The Laminex Group, Dulux, Somfy, Charles Parsons, Pioneer Australia and Axolotlozone.
